Disclosure of Commercial Support

As a sponsor accredited by the ACCME, Boston University School of Medicine must insure balance, independence, objectivity, and scientific rigor in all its individually sponsored or jointly sponsored educational activities. All faculty participating in a sponsored activity are expected to disclose to the activity audience any significant financial interest or other relationship (1) with the manufacturer(s) of any commercial product(s) and/or provider(s) of commercial services discussed in an educational presentation and (2) with any commercial supporters of the activity. (Significant financial interest or other relationship can include such things as grants or research support, employee, consultant, major stock holder, member of speakers bureau, etc.). The intent of this disclosure is not to prevent a speaker with a significant financial or other relationship from making a presentation, but rather to provide listeners with information on which they can make their own judgments. Faculty or sponsor relationships with commercial supporters will be disclosed to participants in printed materials such as brochures and or syllabi. In the case of regularly scheduled events, such as grand rounds, disclosure shall be made by the moderator of the activity and written documentation of the said disclosure entered into the CME office file. It remains for the audience to determine whether the speaker's interests or relationships may influence the presentation with regard to exposition or conclusion.

Should your presentation include discussion of any unlabeled/investigational use of a commercial product, you are required to disclose this to the participants.
